

CALATAGAN

KINUYOG FESTIVAL

Kuyog or “siganus canaliculatus” typically occurs in shallow, coastal waters and is more tolerant of turbid waters than other siganus species. It is an important commercial species and considered a good food fish despite their small size. There have been no documented widespread declines and it is still locally abundant in many parts of its range.

“Kuyog” as the most abundant and popularly known fish in the locality, whether fresh or dried, and cooked in different food variety, has been the favorite meal of Calataguenos. From the root word “kuyog”, comes the local parlance “kinuyog” which means the swarming or getting together of a large group of people. Thus, the name “kinuyog” was used as the official tourism festival of the Municipality of Calatagan which is celebrated every 16th day of December in consonance with the celebration of the founding anniversary of Calatagan. We also want to show people that we, Calataguenos are UNITED.

A Brief History...

Calatagan is the southwesternmost municipality of the province of Batangas. It is approximately 125 kilometers southeast of Manila and 93 kilometers west of Batangas City. On the north it is bounded by the municipalities of Lian and Balayan, on the south by the Verde Island Passage, on the east by the Pagapas Bay and Balayan Bays, and on the west, by the West Philippine Sea.

The word “Calatagan” is a derivative of the Tagalog word “latag” and is synonymous to “kapatagan”. It means a vast portion of land lying between the hills and mountains. Thus, Calatagan means a large expanse of wide plain lands. The land occupied by the municipality of Calatagan was acquired by Don Domingo Roxas from the Spanish Crown in 1829 and was called Hacienda de Calatagan. The successors of Don Pedro Roxas continued to develop it and by the first decade of the century it had progressed sufficiently to become a municipality in 1912, by virtue of Executive Order No. 78 by then GOVERNOR GENERAL WILLIAM CAMERON FORBES, Calatagan became a municipality independent from its mother municipality, Balayan.
